Gentlemen:

I am enclosing herewith your cheque for $4.25, together with your order for a copy of the American Journal of Numismatics to be sent to Mr. H. C. Bangs, Glencoe, Illinois.

The American Journal of Numismatics has been temporarily suspended. Should the publication of the Journal be resumed at some future date, we will be glad to inform you and happy to receive any orders you may care to send us.

In place of the Journal we have been issuing a publication called "Numismatic Notes and Monographs." The enclosed is a list of those we have published.

Under the circumstances I am enclosing a letter to Mr. H. C. Bangs suggesting that he become a member of our Society; he would then receive our monographs free of charge.

I am suggesting this course not without a realization that it does not seem quite fair to your rights, but as I can formulate no other way, I trust you will see our predicament.

Thanking you for this and for previous co-operation, I am

Very truly yours,

Secretary
